ABOUT TREATY ONE NATIONS

Treaty One Nations is composed of the seven First Nations who are signatories to the first of the 11 numbered Treaties, originally signed on August 3, 1871, at Lower Fort Garry after several days of discussions and ceremonies.

In a 19-year process of coming together as a unified governing body, the seven Treaty No. 1 First Nations have cultivated a political relationship rooted in Nationhood and a solid foundation for collective governance, significant opportunities for long-term investment, and economic development.

Responsible for the governance and oversight of the development of the jointly held Treaty One Lands, Treaty One Nations Inc. is guided by the Governing Council that is comprised of the seven Chiefs of the Treaty No. 1 First Nations.

ABOUT ANISHINAABE DAYS

Anishinaabe Days is Treaty One Nations' annual summer celebration held at Naawi-Oodena, bringing people together to experience Anishinaabe culture through community and connection. Free and open to all, the event creates a welcoming space for families, neighbours, partners, and allies to learn and celebrate.

Featuring a mix of cultural, artistic, and family-focused activities, Anishinaabe Days offers something for all ages. From the heartbeat of the drum, to the energy of the marketplace, or to honouring the living culture and traditions of the Anishinaabe people, Anishinaabe Days is something for everyone to enjoy.

Key highlights of Anishinaabe Days include:

Traditional Powwow

A powerful expression of Anishinaabe culture and healing, bringing together dancers, singers, and community members to celebrate tradition through song and ceremony.

Anishinaabe Idol Talent Show

A crowd-favourite event showcasing the musical talent of Indigenous artists from across the region, providing a platform for performers to share their voices and stories in front of a supportive audience.

Indigenous Artisan Market

Featuring Indigenous artisans and entrepreneurs offering handcrafted goods such as beadwork, artwork, clothing, and other one-of-a-kind items, supporting Indigenous creativity and economic growth.

Youth & Family Activities

Interactive and educational activities for children and youth, including sports activations, games, and hands-on experiences designed to inspire the next generation.

Food Trucks & Community Eats

A diverse selection of food vendors offering traditional Indigenous cuisine alongside popular food-truck favourites throughout the weekend.

Fireworks Celebration

Saturday evening concludes with a fireworks display, bringing the community together to celebrate culture and connection.

All funds raised through sponsorships help ensure that Anishinaabe Days remains free and accessible. By supporting Anishinaabe Days, sponsors play a direct role in strengthening cultural continuity, community connection, and shared experiences across Treaty One Territory.
